Kynís

KYNFRÆÐIFÉLAG ÍSLANDS

NACS Conference in Götenburg 2019
National report, Iceland

The sexological culture in Iceland is quite focused on #metoo and gender equality and that rules the discourse quite a bit. The diploma of Sexology is still running in The University of Iceland as three independent courses on a graduate level. Kynís has a new president, Indíana Rós Ægisdóttir, a master student in sexology from Widener University in the United States. Her aim for the association is to increase members and visibility and strengthening bonds with grassroot organisations.
